By the House of Delegates,
February 10th, 1837.

Gentlemen of the Senate,

We respectfully ask the return of a bill to this house, entitled, an act to incorporate the Hereford academy, in Baltimore county, for the purpose of further consideration.

By order,

G. G. Brewer, clerk.

Mr. Williams submitted the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, the trustees having the management of the broken Bank of Maryland, have, in the exercise of their trust, advertised for public sale many hundred shares of the nominal capital stock of said bank; And whereas, there may be some persons who might erroneously suppose that the charter of said insolvent and ruined institution, will continue to be in force and have perpetual existence, notwithstanding the repeated and gross violations of said charter, on the part of said corporation—and such persons might under the supposition aforesaid, be led to buy the said stock at a
